

Contemplative Retreat: Using Our Money to Serve the Poor

Saturday November 17, 10.00 am—4.00 pm
2614 W. Smith St, Seattle WA

Martin Luther said, Three conversions are necessary:
the conversion of the heart, mind, and the purse.

Paul made it clear that the love of money is “the root of all evils” (1Tim. 6:10). However, preoccupation with how we will pay our bills now or in the future takes our mind away from God just as surely. Many of us feel troubled by the unequal distribution of wealth in the world and struggle to determine how we can use our money as a vehicle for loving God, loving our neighbor, and loving ourselves. We can’t free ourselves from engaging with money, but perhaps we can find a way to be joyful about using our resources as we serve the poor?

Join Susanne Kromberg and Nate Macy for a day of prayer and reflection on how God may be inviting you to joyful freedom from the tyranny of money.

*M. Susanne Kromberg is a spiritual director and retreat facilitator.
Nate Macy is a musician and worship leader.*

The retreat is free of charge, but a donation of $40 is suggested.
